Current Challenge

Your Hidden and Undeveloped Talents: You must read this section carefully to understand the challenges you must overcome to succeed in your life.

Challenge No: 5

This Challenge has a two-fold meaning; the first deals with sex and the senses --the misuse or abuse of the freedom in the 5: the second deals with Discard --release from another angle -- the space you give to things people letting go of them.

You either obey the law or disregard it; you may scale the heights or plumb the depths; you may progress in expansion or run around in circles. It would be best if you learned to understand when to change and to what.

A distinction must be made between the healthy type of restlessness that wants to progress, gain more knowledge and make more contacts and the type that flits from one thing to another from mere love of change and distraction—refusing to stabilize, burning all bridges behind.

The pitfall on the 'sex side' results from your urge to satisfy an impulse as soon as it arises. And to seek an outlet as an experiment. With the '5' vibration, the senses are always uppermost; you want to leave nothing untried, drink, drugs, "whoopie" are so many experiences offered by life --everything must be tested and judged. Speed, impulse, and curiosity all stand ready to overthrow the one with '5' on the Challenge.

Remedies

Restrain that impulse to try everything at least once. Don't be so eager to pass on to the next thing until you have satisfied the obligations of the thing in hand. Stay long enough in one place or at one job to know what there is in it. Don't cast aside your old friends or loves like so many worn-out shoes.

Questions you could ask consciously to yourself and take appropriate actions:

- Is my curiosity about life sound and healthy?

Main Challenge

Your Hidden and Undeveloped Talents: You must read this section carefully to understand the challenges you must overcome to succeed in your life.

Challenge No: 2

You are making yourself miserable with feelings and emotions. You are in danger of becoming petty and small-minded through the minute and detailed 2. Little things of life appear as insurmountable obstacles, and they hurt and hinder you at every turn. You are so open to every influence that you follow the most recent example or impression and base your life upon imitation.

You refuse to forgive or forget the thoughtless words of others. You find it difficult to work with others because you seem so important to yourself you would rather not run the risk of being hurt or slighted by them. You have forgotten the lessons of good manners, kindness, and consideration drummed into your early years for the simple reason that the feelings of others matter very little in comparison with your own.

Remedies

Stop referring everything to yourself. Cultivate a broader outlook on life. Don't imitate others: Be yourself. Throw hesitation, indecision, and fear out of your life. OR: Through your desire to keep the peace, don't forget to tell the truth. Just because you want to be nice, don't be an insincere flatterer. If you have become aware of the beautiful psychic power in your 2, don't try to commercialize it.

Look at your Challenge and ask yourself—Am I a door-mat? Am I a prevaricator? Am I a sensitive cry-baby? Am I afraid of my own shadow? Am I myself?

Learn to forgive everyone, yourself included, daily. You may not know how to forgive, and you may not want to forgive, but the very fact that you say you are willing to forgive begins the healing process.

It is imperative for your own healing that you release the past and forgive everyone.

Current Pinnacle

The Road Ahead: You must read this section carefully while making important decisions regarding your Career

Illumination

Influences emphasize:

- Philosophic, religious, or metaphysical studies.
- Possibility of inspiration and illumination.
- Lack of concern with practical and material matters.
- Problems with associates, particularly business partners or spouse.
- Nervous tension.

This is a challenging period in which you are at a high point of sensitivity and intuition. It's probably difficult for you to use the general influences productively. There is so much going on in your psyche that you can suffer much confusion over direction and identity. On the other hand, there is a wide-open channel between personal consciousness and the unconscious's higher realms. You are constantly being inspired and even assaulted by information and insight.

Because of the intensity of these revelations, you must learn to ground your life in faith and a practical vocation that keeps your feet on the ground every day.

This is a period of enormous spiritual and personal growth. You will come out of it with highly uncommon clarity and understanding of life. At the same time, it is a period of enormous demands, emotionally and spiritually. Any attachment you might have to specific identity traits—who you think you are and why you are here—is constantly challenged.

There is a desire to settle into some field or way of life to attain stability, but this period's energy is not allowing it. It is as if there is a destination, or destiny, to which you are being driven. You do not feel in control of this process. Instead, you are acutely aware of the forces that are shaping your life. You must surrender to them. Meanwhile, you experience the emotional turmoil that can come with this highly charged period.

Govind Vedaprakash Shandilya

Success Coach, Author & Numerologist

There is a definite, even compelling, sense of being different. You are aware of the feeling of receiving special attention from spiritual forces. Your perception of life is somehow more acute than others; you see more clearly and more spiritually due to your high degree of sensitivity. It is as if you have a perfectly accurate peripheral vision, in which everything stands out in sharp relief. At times you may feel that you can see into the souls of things.

At the same time, you may feel like a foreigner to the earth. You are completely impractical. Sometimes you may feel that you do not understand the workings of the physical world. Practical things escape you. You feel awkward and clumsy at times and are aware perhaps how fluidly other lives are going. This increases your sense of being an outsider.

More important than all the awkwardness and feelings of being different is the overwhelming sense of having a purpose or a message to reveal that will make other people's lives happier, healthier, and more at peace. You want desperately to bring this out.

The challenge of this period is to remain grounded and attached to this dream. You must find practical and useful ways to be of service to others while developing yourself so that one day you may be able to bring forth that which is within you.

The influences of this period make you highly creative, innovative, and inventive. You have a completely unconventional approach to problems. Trust your intuition; seek harmonious settings to restore your sense of inner peace, and work hard to keep your feet on the ground. This period will bring great rewards on all levels, and with perseverance, you will find your rightful place.

11/2 on any Pinnacle:

Influences emphasize:

- Being sensitive.
- Being tactful and cooperative.
- Promoting harmony.
- Working with others rather than alone. Partnerships are likely to feel comfortable.
- Patience with details.
- Working with comparatively little recognition.
- Being friendly, affectionate.

There is a possibility of breaking an association in a surprising way and a lesson to be learned in spiritual thinking and faith. Personal hurts through others, divorce, and separations are the tests to be taken unless and until the true spirit of cooperation is cultivated. You must also be careful not to hurt others and to be fair in all dealings.

In my over 2 decades of practice, I had seen several couples who had survived 11/2 on 2nd & 3rd pinnacle (lasting for 18 years) when a sufficient personal space was allowed for each other, separate bedrooms were used. They interacted very sparingly and treated each other as friends rather than dealing with each other as spouses.

Many a time, both spouses were busy in their respective work and operating from different cities. They would meet once a year and have a great time together and get back to their respective cities. And this lasted for the entire duration of the Pinnacle 11. Once the next pinnacle started, they could come back and live together.

Through the hurts received in partnerships or love and marriage, you may turn to religion, philosophical and spiritual thinking, and study.

Current Cycle

The Probable General Influence of The Life Path Direction.

Three is the Cycle of perfected self-expression. It should be a happy and carefree period, expressing the lighter side of life. You should do much entertaining and embrace all opportunities to enlarge your circle of friends. This vibration is not friendly to learning but rather to the expression of what has already been learned. You must enjoy life to the fullest and help others to do so. If you have any artistic talent, now is the time to encourage its expression. Use words on every possible occasion -- write, speak, sing, or act. You may also be successful at designing or decorating during these years. Your greatest help will come through social contacts.

As a first Cycle, '3' may be too expressive, and in any Cycle, there is always the danger of scattering the forces or indulging in things that are purely frivolous and unstable.

You have the right to position, authority, money, and recognition in the world. Yet, your pathway will seldom be an easy one. Your success will come through your knowledge of life and its spiritual relationships. It would be best if you also made enough financial efforts with determination. At times, you will find accomplishments as your rewards instead of money. You must work for the love of doing things and find more satisfaction in the good work than in personal reward.

Avoid Making Money as your chief ambition. It would result in failure and downfall from which it would be hard to recover. Remember, the money will come. For that, you must learn to strike a balance between the material and spiritual forces of being. It would be best if you worked for the good of everyone concerned, rather than for yourself alone.

Your lasting reward will come through your own efforts, strong character, and self-mastery. You may be compelled to repeat your efforts again and again to reach your goal. You must realize that attainment is based on the law of cause and effect. Chance or luck has no role in lasting success.

Avoid being Negative: Anxiety, Worry, Meddlesomeness, Bustling activity, Misplaced sympathy, Mistaken ideas, Interference, Conventionality, Pride, Smugness, Unwilling service, Drudgery, Despondency.

Never let yourself be Destructive: Cynicism, Egotism, Suspicion, Jealousy, Slavery, Domestic Tyranny.

Personality

This is how others will perceive you

You appear friendly and unpretentious. Others perceive you as a gentle, safe harbor. People are drawn to you because, among other reasons, you appear warm, soft, and non-threatening.

You must be neat and make cleanliness an important part of your life. You may even be fussy about having everything exactly in detail. You have a pleasing personality with gentle manners.

You must study styles and adapt them to your own personality. Cultivate a knack for wearing simple clothes. Put aside loud or showy apparel. Instead, use soft, flowing, easy-to-wear, and neat clothing.

Exercise is important to your appearance. It will also be useful in promoting the level of strength you radiate. You are patient and understanding. You are a wonderful listener. You make others feel important and loved. You are sensitive and become tense in a disharmonious atmosphere.

You experienced quite a bit of negative criticism as a child, which made you shy growing up. You may be well past that shyness. Yet, a bit of vulnerability will remain with you and is often sensed by others.

You are a peacemaker. Arguments leave you drained. People sense your desire for harmony. Yet you must avoid being the blank tablet for other's projections.

Though you are strong and ductile, you bend when needed. People may underestimate your strength, yet this is a mistake.

You have a fine sense of beauty and excellent taste. There is a grace in your movements, reflecting your keen sense of harmony and refinement.

MyBirthSecrets

Subconscious Self

The confidence you have in Personal Power and Competence.

Your ability to deal with sudden events and situations.

This implies no Karmic Lessons.

You have the ability to deal with different types of situations. Paradoxically you can be aloof and perhaps indifferent and arrogant. Having done everything at least once, you are rather bored with life. You tend to generalize. You are too impersonal to be greatly concerned.

Although you may think of yourself as considerate — even to the extreme — you may, in fact, be too self-conscious to perceive the messages others are sending out.

The ability to read situations or people properly requires that you become less self-conscious and less inhibited. You may fail to see the need to be alert to the possible pitfalls of the situation.

You may have trouble with relationships simply because you misread others. Perhaps too much of yourself is being projected upon situations or people.

You back down quickly in an argument and can be "bluffed" out of your own opinion. You have a critical viewpoint and are slightly interested in everything. In a crisis, you are philosophical and resigned.

First Vowel

A window to your deeper self

Long & Positive A — as in Shravankumar, Savitri, Akash, Rahul, Rajesh, Mary, Sarah, Shahrukh, James, etc

A: Dynamic Leader

- You are an ambitious, adventurous, and progressive leader.
- You are assertive, aggressive, independent, and self-reliant.
- You have strong willpower and strong opinions.
- You accept advice readily only if it's along the same lines as your own ideas.
- You express individuality strongly.
- You have a great deal of energy, a good mind, and a creative mental approach.
- You are full of excellent ideas and interested in new ideas. However, you usually prefer to use your own ideas.
- You defend your original and innovative approach even in the face of severe opposition.
- You love to forge ahead in unknown territory and push ahead with a pioneering spirit.
- You may have difficulty completing projects as your interest may lag after the start.
- Many A's in the full name makes you critical, cynical, and sarcastic. The planetary ruler of A is Mars. Its inharmonious effect upon the health usually manifests in the form of headaches or brain congestion.

CornerStone

The way you approach Opportunities and Obstacles in life.

YOUR "Cornerstone" is the first letter of your first name. This is the first vibratory influence that contacts you.

The cornerstone indicates the way you approach opportunities and obstacles. It suggests a natural inclination and viewpoint as related to material experience. It can have a restricting, stabilizing, vitalizing, or debilitating effect upon your entire life, depending on its characteristics and nature. Thus, it is one of the main considerations when contemplating a change of name.

CornerStone L (12/3): Most intelligent reasoning creator

- Your nature is romantic. You are loving and devoted to your family. It would be best to find the balance between the higher and lower natures to subdue the passions.
- You are highly creative and balanced on the earth plane. You use your energies carefully. You are open to receive your goods and tend to hold them well. You express slowly, surely, in a measured manner. You are good at verbal communication and often communicate with much originality with words and ideas.
- You also have a good legal mind because you know the law basics (both law and legal begins with L). Your intuition gives you insight into people's motives. You intuitively understand why they act as they do, and your first impressions are often right. You are very intuitive because you are completely open to the mental and spiritual plane.
- You also have psychic awareness. You often desire occult and religious training as you have the ability to think things through. You are very analytical and have good reasoning abilities.
- You can be a good speaker, singer, teacher, or preacher. You are equally vocal when negative, by use of hurtful words, sarcasm, and criticism.

- You love to sing and have a good voice, especially if born on the 12th or 30th.
- You consider various options before acting. When expressive, you find popularity and success through your creative self-expression. You are usually happy and outgoing. It would be best if you channeled your talents towards study and self-improvement.
- You tend to intellectualize experience, making you slow to react or make decisions. You are honest and sincere. You are unprejudiced. You give easily and have a good-natured disposition.
- You move quite often and travel more than most. During times of emotional stress, you are prone to minor accidents. You need to maintain equilibrium in life.
- If you have more than one L in your name, you are prone to accidents and carelessness as you have so much on your mind that you do things too quickly. Otherwise, you have a happy disposition and are friendly and sociable. You enjoy social activities and the lighter side of life — truly expressing the joy of living.
- Both creative and intellectual expression is employed for a relatively easy approach to life. Lightness is perceived as more important than seriousness, social interaction more important than going it alone. Easy going and appreciative of the simple things in life.
- You tend to over-think things. This slows down your ability to make decisions and take necessary action. That level of caution can work against you to be more trusting of your gut instincts. Your tendency toward analyzing everything gives you a heightened sense of conscience and keeps you honest. Remember this part of yourself, even when being spontaneous.
- When you do get around to making decisions, they are usually the right ones, free of bias or moral conflict, so learn to find balance in HOW you make them. Take a few risks along the way.

- You are loyal, true, kind, and giving. At the same time, you also have a high tolerance level for others. You enjoy seeing new things. However, your personal anxiety will cause you to miss out on a lot. You may also be clumsy. You need to balance.
- You can be warm, expressive, and loving. However, when upset by circumstance, you could become cold, aloof, and sarcastic. It would be best if you had self-control. Sometimes you think you are okay without it because you feel attractive and expect others to admire you just the same. You think you can get away with being critical and remain attractive. Yet, you are very sensitive.
- When negative, you have absolutely no patience and find fault with everything. You can see both sides of a question, and as a result, you tend to be indecisive. You may feel held down by your environment, which can be a source of frustration for you. You must feel free to express yourself.
- When things go wrong for you, you bring the negative polarity to self: Fear, sorrow, frustration, and coldness.

You must expand your opportunities with your versatility and adaptability without running yourself ragged and accomplish little. Avoid jumping erratically from one exciting experience to another exciting experience - instead, use these opportunities for excitement along with learning. Use your time and energy wisely - you must start only when you intend to proceed. Stick to nothing after the experience is completed. Similarly, stop jumping to the new simply because it's new.

Explore the physical pleasures - eating, having sex, drinking, taking drugs - as only a part of a balanced life. Avoid overindulgence in these physical pleasures.

Analysis, Understanding

Consciously learn the power of keen mental analysis. Seek wisdom and hidden truths. Develop subjectively to be a fit priest and counselor. Learn to be alone and not lonely. Must work on theories and fundamentals. Must continually increase your store of useful knowledge. Stop concerning yourself with the accumulation of material possessions. Remember, he who loses his life (materially) shall find it (spiritually). You must apply spiritual laws to material affairs. Must rest, study, meditate, worship, be silent, and know yourself. Stop insisting on partnerships or leadership. Must learn to understand the unseen world.

You will find your opportunity through what is brought to you rather than through what you seek for yourself. The opportunities will show up in quiet places — away from bustle and confusion.

16/7 Karmic Debt Life Path:

Life is likely to provide you with many examples of the transient nature of reality. Your status, wealth, or power may change for the worse. Your loving relations may shift abruptly. Other matters may end in sudden or unusual ways. You may be the cause of your own undoing or maybe the seeming recipient of some curious quirk of fate.

In other words, all tragedies must be learned — rise to fall, love to lose, and hold to let go. Acceptance of impermanence will ease the burden.

How many times have you sat comfortably in your current thoughts, beliefs, and expectations?

Then, out of the blue, something shocking happens. It destroys your picture of peace and harmony. It blows your mind or throws you for a loop. At that moment, you realize that your comfort was based on false thought, belief, and action. This is a humbling, frightening, and yet necessary experience.

It is a time of great turmoil and destruction. It forces you to think, how you could have been so wrong, so naive, or so blind about a particular situation. And now, what will you do and how will you. Manage in the face of this shocking truth? You may be experiencing sleepless nights, depression, grief, anger, and confrontation. It may be a divorce, death of a loved one, financial failure, health problems, or job loss. The event penetrates to the core of your inner being. It affects you spiritually, mentally, and physically.

It is often descriptive of a major upheaval, disruption, emergency, or crisis. It is likely to bring chaos in the aftermath of such an event. Ask yourself, "What structures in my life are breaking up?" No doubt you will already be aware of where there are turmoil and destruction. Though sometimes, it can be on a more subtle or subconscious level.

The most important aspect of 16/7 is that the creation follows the destruction. Thus, it represents an awakening — a necessary experience that forces you to get out of your comfort zone. It is about inspiration, freedom, reality, and the release from bondage. It is a truth and honesty that comes like a bolt of lightning to you through a shocking and impactful life event.

The sudden destruction represents the immediacy of change. Once you hit rock bottom, you have a choice. You can revert to the self-defeating, restrictive devil; or reach for the transformational and inspirational star. You will realize that your true security and strength lies within yourself. After 16/7 experience, you can rest assured that you will grow stronger, wiser, and more serene. And you begin to develop a completely new perspective on life that you were unaware of completely. These moments in time are necessary for spiritual growth and enlightenment.

- Truth and honesty will bring about a positive change. Yet you must experience pain and anxiety throughout the process.
- In times of great pressure and stress, these structures will be tested. They are at risk of shattering, finally revealing your true inner self to those around you. So, it would be best if you were very careful how much of yourself you attempt to hide, knowing that everything will be revealed one day.
- The 16/7 asks you to break down the structures that you have surrounded yourself with. This can be a painful and difficult process. Stop resisting the external forces that are pushing you to reveal more of yourself.
- Breaking through this pretense can cause a great deal of anguish. Yet, remember that the Tower will fall. Whether you like it or not, because you have reached your limits in this area and can no longer live with it.
- The 16/7 can signify your ego and the illusion of considering yourself superior to others. When your ego gets destroyed, you are free to face the truth without false attachments.

Remedy for 16/7 Karmic Life Path:

- Gratitude and Faith in God's plan are the two sure shot remedies for 16/7 Karmic debt. Letting go and letting God's attitude will bring immense peace of mind and the ability to bounce back in life.

An Introvert Number.

Watchword: Understanding.

Focus on Positive Energy: Mental analysis, Technicality, Introspection, Peace, Poise, Scientific research, Spirituality, Faith, Trust, Stoicism, Refinement, Wisdom, Silence, Theories and Fundamentals.

Avoid being Negative: Melancholy, Fault-finding, Sarcasm, Coldness, Aloofness, Skepticism, Confusion, Humiliation, Nervousness, Erraticism

Never let yourself be Destructive: Faithlessness, Turbulence, Drink, Malice, Suppression, Deceitfulness, Theft, Cheating, Craftiness.

Life Path & Birthday Compatibility

Usually DISCORDANT

The introspective potential of the 7 conflicts with the executive potential of the 8 for achievement. The inner nature of the 7 combined with the fixity of the 8 may produce a very self-centered approach and difficulty in relating to others.

(Sometimes, the 7 for study and research potential enhances the executive potential of the 8 for achievement.)

Bridge Numbers

Making the Relationship between Core Numbers work for you.

Bridge Number 1: Rely on your own strengths and abilities; be more decisive and straightforward when expressing your thoughts and feelings. There is no real need for you to behave according to other's expectations. You need to take charge more often and find original ways of doing things. Avoid being conventional.

Bridge Number 5(7-2): Paradoxically, this combination is disharmonious and potentially gifted. You're sensitive and in need of love and attention, and at the same time very private and inwardly focused. This creates a certain amount of inner conflict. You tend to self-pity, and you tend to withdraw as soon as a relationship shows the slightest bit of turmoil. You take criticism too personally. The high potential comes from the combination of analytical power (7), and intuition (2) represented here.

Bridge Number 0: A bridge number 0 means that you have at least two core numbers identical. It is considered fortunate and an opportunity to make real progress in the areas of life expressed by the repeated number. For example, if you have a 3 Life Path and 3 Expression Number high level of creativity and self-expression are powerful traits in your life. However, if you have three or more identical core numbers, the balance may be off. For example, if you have 7 Expression, 7 Life Path, and 7 Heart's Desire, it will make you withdrawn and solitary. You will have difficulty accepting your feelings or those of others.

The challenge here is to find balance. If you have three or more identical numbers, study the meaning of that number and ask yourself if you're excessive in its characteristics or quite common. The worst possible scenario will be if a single number dominates your chart. In that case, you would absorb the negative aspects of the number completely.

Bridge Number 2: Avoid rocking the boat too often; be sensitive to the needs and expectations of others. Keep the peace and work to make things run smoothly. Be more cooperative. Instead of confrontations, use your ability to influence others with gentle diplomacy.

Bridge Number 6(8-2): You are both the leader and the diplomat. You have an innate ability to negotiate. However, you may have a broken romantic relationship/s caused in part by over-sensitivity, criticism, a tendency to gossip, and large fluctuations in financial matters.

Bridge Number 4: Be more reliable and punctual. Be practical, methodical, and systematic in your endeavors. Keep track of details to avoid chaos. Work on the basics of life. Physical and outdoor activities bring you closer to yourself. Get out in nature, work in the garden, or build a fence. Whatever happens to avoid procrastination.

Post 32, you will become more concerned with well being of family, friends, and community. You will be drawn to the role of healer, counselor, and teacher. You become more responsible and protective.

You have a careful and balanced approach to business and financial matters. It provides an outstanding financial foundation for the future. It assures you with sound and secure success in later life. Loved ones in your old age will surround you.

This mid-life appraisal is apt to focus on:

- Whether responsibility has been handled to produce satisfaction for you, OR
- Whether friendship, affection, and love received and given to meet your needs.

You can attract money easily. You are independent and individualized in work — having strong likes and dislikes. You desire to live according to your personal feelings and beliefs. At times you may cling to a personal plan or idea with bulldog determination, as you resist subordination easily. When unhappy, you act in a different manner causing many difficulties in business and domestic association.

You have a charming and witty personality. A strong desire to be at the head of any undertaking generally opens the way to leadership and important positions.

You must avoid a tendency to leave things up quickly, be easily bored, and get tired of an association or activity very soon.

Number 4 on Intuitive Plane: You receive ideas of impressionable nature and do something practical about them. Else, call the ideas impossible. You are a person having no creativity and hence unreliable for imagination. You care less about the vague or abstract. You like form and ceremony in religion.

Number 4 on Any Plane: You seek to establish order, system, and the practical in work and living conditions. You expect faith and loyalty to be respected and laws to be fulfilled. The ability to debate well is one of the key assets when there is sure knowledge. You can go to extremes to prove or disprove the question under discussion until you are satisfied. This may appear to be stubbornness and opposition to others. You hate sudden changes. You like to plan, build, and construct according to the established order of things. You love the family and the well-established traditions. You will find many family and in-law problems to be worked out. A dominant member of your life may bring a degree of repression. Guard against being dominant yourself with opinions and ideas. You are unhappy unless occupied or putting something into form or order. You are warmhearted, generous to loved ones, like to stand well in the community and get things done. The protocol is essential to you.

Birthday Tendencies

Material Satisfaction

You are high-minded and proud-spirited, conservative by fits and starts, generous or penurious, collecting or scattering. You are very set in your ideas and seldom yield to others. You are in one of the best banking, and financial (1+ 7=8) vibration and can conserve and manage others' interests and affairs with great success. It would be best if you were the actual head of your own business but should work with Under-partners or associates. You execute what you undertake. And should deal in large affairs-taking care; however, there is someone to attend to the details. You hate to be concerned with them.

The final digit of this number rules the earth, and you will do well in any enterprise connected with it--such as lands, mines, oil, or livestock. You have a great love of knowledge and are fond of exploring. Any writing you do will incline to the technical and historical rather than to fiction. You want proof in spiritual matters.

Saturn is the ruling planet for you. When Saturn is well posited in your chart, it brings wisdom, awareness of right and wrong, sincerity, honesty, love of justice, non-attachment, long-life fame, authority, leadership, and organizational abilities.

If Saturn is unfavorably posited in your natal chart, it makes you greedy, morbid, and gloomy. It brings obstruction, delay, humiliation, enmity, bad karmas, lawsuits, and prison. It makes you lonely, pessimistic, afraid, and subject to premature aging, drug addiction and gives you suicidal tendencies. You continuously suffer from losses and psychosomatic problems caused by the disturbance in your body chemistry due to a disturbance in the flow of gases in the body. You dislike discipline; you are rebellious and lawbreakers. You behave like older adults and appear older than your chronological ages.

You are confident and determined. However, you are mostly misunderstood, even by your closest friends and relatives. You are hardworking and accept challenges readily; when challenged, you make the impossible possible. You are introverted, reserved, patient, reflective, deep, serious, melancholic, and outwardly calm and well-balanced.

You are very sincere with the social organizations, groups, communities, or families you associate yourself with and devote your whole lives. As you like to do everything yourself and resist asking for help or being helped, usually you are helped by no one.

You have a strong presence that can sometimes be a little heavy. Nevertheless, you have a distinctive personality. Your willpower and serious nature give you the strength to handle various kinds of projects successfully. Although you meet obstacles, delays, failures, and challenges along the way, your strong individuality, persistence, will, and patience lead you to complete your tasks. Thus you make your marks on history. You have faith in life and are generally born to serve a cause to which you sacrifice yourself and serve as tools.

Your lives are full of struggles, and you are persistent until you achieve your desired goals. You can make a good fighter, politician, and scientist. You are revolutionary by nature and can be associated with major upheavals that sometimes are brought on by destruction. However, your motives are to serve silently and sacrifice your lives to benefit the poor and downtrodden.

Your lives are unpredictable. Unexpected changes keep you busy adjusting to the new circumstances. This makes it hard for your friends and relatives to understand you, and that is why you are mostly misunderstood. Because of your solitary nature, graveness, lack of humor, inability to appreciate humor, and your intolerance of jokes, you feel very lonely at heart. Your lifestyle makes you asocial; you have a few real friends who can peep into the innocent and tender spaces hidden deep inside your personality. Though you are outwardly stiff, inside, you are a very caring, devoted, and gentle person who faces hardships and losses to protect the interests of friends. While you shield your friends and save them under difficult circumstances, you also make the worst enemy.

When you become angry, you disturb the whole environment and can make even the strongest person shake. You continue to make efforts until you have defeated and subdued your enemies. You keep enmity in your hearts until the end of your lives; you wait patiently and attack your enemies at the appropriate time. While if needed, you accept defeat with joy and change your strategies. However, remain unpacified until you have taken revenge. You are extremists and go to extremes, both in friendship and enmity.

You are dissatisfied by small success; you aspire for great success and full honor. You believe your work is your worship and aim at doing big things in whatever businesses or jobs you have. You hate hypocrisy and deceit and are yourself honest, practical, and clever. You become wise at an early age and have the ability to judge other people. You feel different from other people and do things that are prohibited by law and society. You disbelieve in the existing norms and come into conflict with social and moral values.

You are materialists, and financial security is your primary object, yet you refrain from running after money. You love your own ideology and can do anything – take any job – to make money. You then can spend every cent of it on others, without selfish motive or expectation of return. However, you are incapable of spending money on yourself or those inside your family circle. Until thirty-five years of age, you can save no money and go through several financial crises in your lifetime. However, after passing this age, you can have bank balances. You love to see your balances grow and spend money cautiously with restraint. After you have earned enough money, you work to develop your mental faculties. You strive to overcome the ongoing internal dialogue in your minds and learn the occult sciences, religion, philosophy, meditation, etc. Although you have no deep and real interest in religion, you again go to the extreme and gain the deepest meditation states when you are lucky enough to have good guidance.

How long will it take before you start seeing the visible difference in your life?

There is no fixed time. It may take anywhere between 6 months to 1 year after implementing the corrected name & also wear the gemstone.

Remember, even childbirth needs a gestation period of 7-9 months after the baby is conceived. So have faith and implement the suggested remedies & get on to work. Leave the results to the universe. Remember, only the inspired actions will produce the desired results, so consciously be in action. Please keep track of your growth regularly, as what gets measured gets done.

During this consultation, we have given you various numbers that are in harmony with one another. However, you still have a choice to select the aspect of each number--Constructive, Negative, or Destructive. If you find yourself veering towards the negative, you may know that you are getting away from the positive, and the negative qualities of that number will pull you further away. In such a case, when you sense this, you must consciously pull yourself up quickly and work towards the constructive aspects. In other words, it is called taking 100% responsibility for your life situations and taking inspired actions.

I wish you great success in life. May God be with you throughout.

Notes

The missing vibrations in your full name are known as Karmic Lessons. They indicate a particular trait in your character and represent the experiences consciously and deliberately evaded and avoided in the previous birth. Having no previous experience of them, you are ignorant, and as a result, you fear these experiences when you are obliged to meet them time and again.

It is suggested that you read and re-read the interpretations of the missing vibrations in your name carefully--Explained later in the report. And imbibe the Karmic Lessons consciously. You could use these lessons as a base for your Burning Desire.

Remember, Learning is essential for your growth and success. There are two ways of learning--Because of and Despite. If you accept the lessons and profit from them because you realize their importance, you will learn the lesson more easily and less painfully.

If you resist, life will take charge of the entire job. It will force upon you the experiences in the form of knocks and hardships that make you fully conscious of what you lack. This is Karma, the inevitable effect of the cause despite yourself.
